Where the six most severe events of each season land under other detector settings
(shaded column is the reference catalogue; red ring marks two reference events detected as one)

